

Searching for better indoor air quality? We are here to help!

Specialistläkarna ("The specialist doctors") in Lund, Sweden, is a pioneer as they are one of the first clinics that has installed the unique all-in-one solution Opragon In-a-Box. It now carries the CE and UKCA markings and is ready for easy and fast installations converting almost any room into a safe operating room for smaller surgeries. To shorten waiting times and be able to treat patients more quickly, the gynecology clinic at CSK in Sweden converted an older room into an operating room by installing Opragon In-a-Box. You can read the full story in our blog.

One of our long-term customer, Region Skåne, tells Swedish Television about how the new ventilation system, Avidicare's Opragon, has improved the working environment and safety even during the hottest summer days.

We are pleased to hear that our ventilation system really can make a difference for those who are working in the operating rooms, and that patient safety is enhanced!

The two new hybrid rooms, which are architectural masterpieces themselves, have been opened and put into use at OLVG in Amsterdam, the Netherlands. The new ORs fill the space between the existing walls and have therefore acquired an exceptionally large size. To get ultra-clean in these giant rooms, the hospital has chosen to install Opragon, which ensures that the entire room is provided with HEPA-filtered ultra-clean air, with less energy
